

Hello again friends,

Given the recent COVID-19 developments and public health recommendations, we are taking the difficult but necessary step to postpone our current production of Buddy: The Buddy Holly Story. Any additional program or scheduling changes will be communicated via email, social media and on our website.

This is such an incredible production – so we are THRILLED that we are able to bring it back for our Old Creamery audiences September 25 – October 4. Ticket holders for the remaining March 18 – April 5 performances are asked to call our box office (319-622-6262) to discuss their options.

If there's a silver lining in any of this, it's witnessing the extraordinary care and understanding that our patrons and staff have shown these last few weeks. When this passes, I know we will all need to be inspired, uplifted and entertained – so we look forward to opening our doors and creating that theatre magic with you once again.

With heartfelt gratitude,
