

Old Creamery Theater Gets Mugged

Serena Knudson, co-features editor

Amana's Old Creamery Theatre is about to get a big dose of J-Hawk flavor. In the form, of all things, of coffee mugs. Seven Jefferson students in Mrs. Swanson's AP Studio Art had the privilege of painting and decorating mugs that will be shown on KCRG's morning mugshot. They each got to pick a play that is matched up with the ones that will be shown at the Old Creamery Theater in the Amana Colonies this 2014 season. This season consists of "Stuart Little", "Cinderella", and many more.

The mugs will be featured both at the theater and on television during TV-9's morning broadcasts highlighting the work done by JHS artists.

Stuart Little

Gina Buelow painted her mug for Stuart Little shown April fifth - 15th. "It was a fun way to help the community and also do art in a more public way," Buelow said. "It was also challenging to make our art TV worthy."

Cinderella

Mrs. Swanson also painted a mug this one being for Cinderella which will be shown September 20th - October fourth. "My daughter loves Cinderella so I was drawn to that particular play," Swanson said. "I wanted to incorporate the mug somehow so I divided to turn it into the carriage."

Tuna Does Vegas

Jordan Renfro made his mug more three dimensional rather than painting it. His play was "Tuna Does Vegas" and will be shown August 14th through 31. "The images found pertained to a 'tacky' theme," Renfro said. "I wanted the person on the mug to represent the dad from the tourists at the beginning of 'Despicable Me.'"

Morning Mugshot Dates

March 27 - Stuart Little
April 14 - Ring of Fire
May 28 - The Sunshine Boys
June 4 - How I became a Pirate
July 16 - Snoopy!
August 14 - Tuna Does Vegas
September 4 - Cinderella
October 9 - Church Basement Ladies
November 20 - Junie B. Jones
December 1 - A 1940s Radio Christmas Carol